

Nick Laister owns Fairytale Farm in Chipping Norton, Oxfordshire, England, an award-winning visitor attraction aimed at families with young children, designed to put the needs of children with sensory, learning, and physical disabilities first.

Nick is also managing director of Laister Planning and is the leading planning consultant in the UK, providing planning advice to owners and operators of visitor attractions, holiday parks and park home developments. He is also founder and former chair of the Dreamland Heritage Trust in Margate, Kent.

